

The aim of Fluxus Courtyard is for the community to implement ideas in collaboration with an artist, making decisions through the CO-CREATION process.

FLUXUS courtyard No. 3: Multiresidential dwellings T. Masiulio g. 12 and 14, Petrašiūnai, Kaunas

What kind of courtyard is it?

Houses No. 12 and 14 in T. Masiulio g. form a unique close courtyard, so the work of art could be suspended in air, or maybe hung between the houses on a cable. The recreational area in the courtyard is rather poor, so it could use some improvement in this aspect, and it could also benefit from more plants. We need a space in the courtyard for communication, recreation, and for children to play.

The name of the street is related to the eponymous freedom fighter who sacrificed his life for our country.

Back in the day, our district was called the “Dream” city, due to the developed infrastructure as it grew when the Kaunas Hydroelectric Power Plant was constructed.

Currently our courtyard and the entire block undergoes the revival as the multi residential buildings are renovated and the environment is improved considerably.

Who are the residents of the courtyard?

There are around 100-120 people living in these buildings. Active members of the community: 20–30 people.

What is expected from the artist?

To find an idea that could be implemented taking into consideration the history of the courtyard.
